

ADAM NEVIN

Project Manager

Adam joined as an Assistant Project Manager and has since been promoted to Project Manager. Adam started his career with a main contractor and completed his Joinery NVQ's and then progressed to Assistant Construction Manager. He has recently completed his degree in Construction Project Management and continuing his professional development by undertaking his CIOB Chartership.

His background gives him a good all round understanding of the project management and construction activities. Adam is very comfortable speaking with all project team members and helping to resolve any challenges the team face.

Adam is a keen and hard-working professional who strives for the best. He has worked on numerous different projects ranging from £15 million to £26 million including schools, hospitals, houses, and residential projects. Throughout his experience with the construction industry, he has gained a vast amount of knowledge and experience to help and develop strong relationships with colleagues and clients.
