

FIONA MCLOUGHLIN

Associate Director

Fiona is a driven and experienced NEC and JCT Project Manager who has successfully managed and delivered projects across the RIBA Stages within the Healthcare sector of the construction industry for over ten years.

Fiona started her experience in Healthcare working full time as the Client representative NEC Project Manager for the Christie NHS Foundation Trust from 2015-2020. Since joining DAY PM in January 2020, Fiona has been the lead Project Manager on the schemes with Salford City Council, Northern Care Alliance NHS Foundation Trust (NCA), iFM Bolton, Manchester University NHS Foundation Trust (MFT) Trust and now Leeds & York Partnership NHS Foundation Trust. Her project portfolio varies from £200k minor works packages to £150m major capital works projects.

Fiona has a real understanding of the sensitivities and challenges of construction activities taking place in live Hospital environments. Fiona appreciates the key needs of stakeholders during both design and construction phases and works hard to translate technical design and construction detail to them. This all aids with maintaining the position on programme and budget, as well as building stronger client relationships.

The Proton Beam Therapy Centre project at the Christie NHS Foundation Trust was a fundamental project in Fiona's career and it won the Constructing Excellence 'Building Project of the Year' Award in 2018. Since then, Fiona has been leading and delivering fundamental Healthcare projects across the North West and Yorkshire on behalf of some of our key NHS Trust Clients.

Fiona is DAY PM's leader of Social Value. Every month DAY PM commit to a new and different Social Value contribution to the local community and Fiona is the one who leads, coordinates and develops Social Value to be a main priority in our business objectives. Fiona is also one of our Team Leaders, managing a team of APMs, PMs and SPMs.
